At KingsWellies we will also be working towards becoming accredited as an Eco-Scotland Nursery, a UNICEF Rights Respecting Nursery and a Forest School Nursery. We have lots of aims and ambitions!

KINGSWELLIES LEADERSHIP

KingsWellies will be led by Nursery Director, Kerry Jane Robertson. Kerry is a qualified primary and nursery teacher with over twenty years of teaching experience and extensive knowledge of all aspects of nursery and primary childcare. She has worked as a Depute Head Teacher, Head Teacher and Quality Improvement Officer for the past fifteen years.

Kerry previously line-managed a total of 18 primary, nursery, secondary and special schools within the Stonehaven and Portlethen areas. She has led both Dunnottar and Glenbervie Schools through extremely successful HMIE and Care Inspectorate inspections and was personally highly commended by inspectors. Kerry was instrumental in the development of 3-18 Curricular Policy for Aberdeenshire Council.

Kerry left her role as Head Teacher of Dunnottar School and Nursery in July 2014, in order to prepare KingsWellies for opening.

KINGSWELLIES TEAM

Evidence shows that the best experiences for children come from the best qualified staff.

All KingsWellies staff will be registered with the Scottish Social Services Council (SSSC) and will hold childcare qualifications in line with the National Care Standards. All staff will also be screened through Disclosure Scotland and each will be a member of the Protecting Vulnerable Groups Scheme.

All KingsWellies staff will undergo continuous on-the-job training in order to improve their knowledge, skills and qualifications.

In addition to the Nursery Director, KingsWellies Nursery will employ one Nursery Manager who will be trained to degree level and hold a primary teaching qualification. She/he will be ably supported by three nursery supervisors who will each supervise one of our three playrooms.

A team of nursery nurses and nursery assistants will complete the highly qualified KingsWellies team.

PARTNERSHIP WITH PARENTS

You as parents are the prime educators of your children in their earliest years. At KingsWellies, we clearly recognise that you have a critical role to play in working with us to support your child's development and learning. We recognise that children do better when parents, carers and staff work closely together.

KingsWellies will have an open-door policy whereby parents will be encouraged to visit their children or have lunch with them. Staff will also always be available to listen to your comments or suggestions and will work hard to build meaningful and positive relationships with you. Learning through play

Play is a fundamental part of childhood. Our role at KingsWellies is to enable and facilitate play.

At KingsWellies, the principles of play will underpin and support all of our policies and programmes for our children. KingsWellies children will be able to experience high-quality, stimulating play experiences as part of their daily lives.

Pre-Birth to Three: Positive Outcomes for Scotland's Children and Families

KingsWellies will follow the national guidance set out in Pre-Birth to Three: Positive Outcomes for Scotland's Children and Families, whilst working with our youngest children. This national guidance sets the context for high-quality care and education. It will also ensure a smooth and coherent transition for all children as they begin to engage with Curriculum for Excellence 3-18.

The four key principles are:

rights of the child

responsive care

relationships

respect

At KingsWellies, each of our younger children will have a Key Person who will offer security, reassurance and continuity and who will be responsible for feeding, changing and comforting your child.

Curriculum for Excellence 3-18

Whilst at KingsWellies, your child will learn through Curriculum for Excellence which is the curriculum used throughout Scotland. The Early Level provides a framework for children's learning in the pre-school years and in primary 1. Curriculum for Excellence places a strong emphasis on the development of health and wellbeing, literacy and numeracy.

Health and wellbeing

At KingsWellies, health and wellbeing is about learning how to lead healthy and active lives, whilst becoming confident, happy and forming friendships and relationships with others that are based on respect.

Literacy

Literacy is an essential part of our everyday lives. It helps us to understand and interpret our world through what we hear, see, say, write and read. Early literacy skills start with babies discovering that they can communicate their needs through their first sounds, facial expressions and body language.

Numeracy

Numeracy is about counting and numbers as well as understanding measurement, money, weight, an awareness of time and how to handle information. It is important for simple tasks, from pairing your socks to paying for your shopping.

Other curricular areas

At KingsWellies Nursery, we will recognise the importance of health and wellbeing, literacy and numeracy as key to building our curriculum. We will also focus on developing understanding of the expressive arts, religious and moral education, sciences, social studies and technologies.

Outdoor learning

At KingsWellies the children will be encouraged to get moving indoors and outdoors in all weathers. Learning to enjoy the outdoors in our Scottish climate will help the KingsWellies children to grow and develop into healthy and confident adults. A huge range of activities, resources and games will be provided in our large and unique outdoor play environment.

Building the Ambition

KingsWellies Nursery will also use the National Practice Guidance on Early Learning and Childcare: Building the Ambition (2014) as our core guidance to support us in providing a seamless learning journey from birth to starting school.

Our guarantee to you

At KingsWellies, you can be confident that:

- staff are flexible and responsive to your child's personal, emotional, educational and physical needs
- we will provide your child with a range of rich and varied learning opportunities which will help them to develop into successful learners, confident individuals, responsible citizens and effective contributors
- your child will experience and choose from a wide range of high-quality programmes and activities that are planned, designed, evaluated and implemented by staff, taking account of national and local guidelines
- we will promote ambition and high expectations for every child within our care.

Diet and Nutrition

Healthy foods help your child to grow and can improve concentration leading to higher levels of interest, curiosity and playful learning. If we introduce children to healthy eating now, it is much more likely that they will continue to make healthy food choices as they grow up.

KingsWellies Nursery will provide a very high standard of healthy meals using the highest quality ingredients. Your child will receive a hot two-course lunch, which is prepared by our award-winning catering partners 'Entiër.'

KingsWellies Nursery believes that local is better, and that's why in working with Entiër, we can guarantee that 90% of our produce is sourced from right here in Aberdeenshire. We will ensure that we deliver superior quality, service and choice to your child on a daily basis. Please see our sample menus below.
